

Prophetic Word For Today

The Father says today that this circumstance you are facing didn't catch Me by surprise. I am not wringing My hands or pacing before the throne wondering how I am going to get you out of this one. Others around you, even trusted counselors are going to be astonished to the point of having no right answers for you. In this situation, you are going to have to listen to My voice and not the cold comfort of uninformed and uninspired advisors. I am not only the Comforter, but I am the counselor. I will direct you every step of the way and fast-track you through the snares of Satan. So come, let us reason together, says the Father. Pour out your heart to Me, for you have My undivided attention. All of heaven is focused upon your plight and the cry of your heart this day. This is not a day for hopelessness but for trust. I haven't abandoned you or left you to your own devices. I am working in the midst of the darkness and though you don't always see it I am bringing you to your safe haven. In times of trial and uncertainty, it can be easy to feel alone and overwhelmed. But be reminded that I am always with you, piloting you through the darkness and leading you to safety and security in the midst of uncertainty. Never be neglectful of the fact that you are not alone in your struggles and that there is a greater plan at work beyond what you can see.

Look away from the chaos to My hand bringing My goodness online and provisioning you as you purpose in the battle to overcome fear and doubt. Holding onto hope against hope and believing in that impossible thing that will reframe your situation and lead you into the fulfillment of your destiny in My kingdom. Others around you will have their solutions but they are only Ishmael alternatives that will only prolong the wilderness trip – listen only to My voice and those whose words align with the vision I've put in your heart. Your assignment is that of trust, faith, and surrender – the key themes that will help you navigate the difficulties and impossibilities that seem so insurmountable – they will vanish as a vapor – one minute there and the next disappeared, revealing the path ahead and the destination of blessing, favor about power just within your reach. It is a new day and a new season, says God – a season of endearment when all those things that can be shaken will be shaken so that the things of My heart in your life that cannot be shaken will remain and reframe and redefine the absolute fullness of abundant life I've promised you.

Standing With You in Prayer,
